Its not massive at all, something goes wrong, say you burn your hand, you swear. You die, you swear.

Simple.

Its like football matches in England supporters chant swear words at the top of their voices..do you think parents stay away and keep their kids away?

Fuck do they. The parents(notably the dad) is probably chanting it too. Lets face it, i knew every swearword in the book by the time i was 9 or so. The whole logic of this protecting kids is complete shite.
