
Subject: Anyone got Renegade + Renguard running on Vista?

I've been trying ever since I installed Beta 2 to get it to work, but no luck
I have a Renegade installation that I can access from my XP partition, and Game.exe launches the game fine, but there are no WOL components and RenGuard just complains about being unable to create a serial hash (I've tried the serial changer program).
I also tried reinstalling Renegade, but the Setup program just crashes.

And, as I've found topics saying I should wait for a 64bit Renguard, I'll say aswell that I am running 32bit Vista on a Sempron64

So, has anyone tried/managed to get it to work? I would really appreciate some help, and remember, you'll have to fix this if it still won't work when Vista is released commercially!
