besides when you are playing 22 on 22 and everyone in the server pwns and a player that really knows how to play installs a hack like that what do you do?

They kill at the rate of the best players in the game but no faster, they learn to use the cheat the same way a good player will learn to use the game, they modify the cheat to only do certain things thus reducing detection and testing effectiveness.

then RG came along and people STILL got kicked from fully RG-ed servers for pure pwnage because of the level of paranoia generated by the hack. At one point you couldnt play a game without accepting a certain number of hackers would be playing, imagine an effect so strong that people still get kicked NOW from fully RG-ed games.

bad shit and not as obvious as you might think, some of the people I knew that modded before RG but after FR were fooking heroes tbh because they sniffed out 90% of the cheaters, god love em all
