I was about to say similar - I always repair in the field, I just dont get out stand still and rep for 5 minutes waiting for it to be stolen. I will use a hottie/tech and repair in short bursts whilst keeping an eye for snipers/sbh - it beats never repairing or having to go all the way back to base to do it.

And one man APC rush is often a good idea, for example if you are on the defensive and can sneak out whilst everyone else defends.

Everything else seemed obvious but valid to me.
