Duke of Nukes you say that but if someone jokes about killing someone else you'd flip out, fire them and/or throw them in jail. at schools in america you can get expelled just for saying "I will beat you down" to one of your friends if the wrong person overhears it. But you're right, it's ok because it's the French.

and he never said that he would kill them, and that happens in canada and europe 2 its called a death threat
