funny spoony always prances about telling everyone they have anger problems, and to get getting angry. Yet hes the worst of all, pretty funny tbh.

If you think Whiskey's ban is the result of one insult, or due to "anger", you really are missing the point... the difference between you and I is I don't get anywhere near as angry as you do over a computer game, and I certainly don't let it dictate admin decisions. It's usually the last defence of every cheater to say something like that... whatever makes you feel better in your withdrawal, I guess.

karmai wrote on Sun, 20 August 2006 19:23btw spoony im still not sure why you banned me from smack, somethin about me trying to destroy the league? lol

Gee, I dunno chief... constantly breaking the rules since the point the league first started, trying to get other people suspended... I don't know why I need to keep repeating this to you.
