Trooprm doesn't have much manners. However, you didn't seem to reply on my post, right before it...

oh yeah sorry..

ok for the anti kick.. its almost worthless. it was just for the nickname exploit so that you dont get automatically kicked. it was already well known and "exploited" by using WPEpro (winsock packet editor). this wasnt very easy to use of course. so i just automated it. but since joining with any nick / direct connecting isnt actually cheating i dont think its sooo bad and if the server owner wants to kick you he can do it of course.. my antikick wont block this! only the automated wol-kick caused by the nickname exploit.

this is superseded anyways by "wolhook" for example.

and i never explained how to avoid or bypass server bans... i just mentioned that they can only ban by ip.. and so you can always change your ip to "bypass" that.

but that isnt a secret, is it?

and i surely dont do it for rep at any cheater forum. i have a job, house, family to care about. so searching for reputation or something similar on the internet where i dont know anyone would be very pathetic, wouldnt it?

later,
