Weird IE bug.....

I don't recall seeing this before, but it is definitely driving me nuts.

Whenever I load a page, the first letter of the meta data shows up in the title bar. ie. if I load up "Renegade Forums" the letter 'R' shows up in the title bar. That's it. It is the same on every page no matter where I go.

I just reloaded my system and I dropped a half million security tools on my system - so I'm sure it is something security related (or a conflict in versions). Has anyone seen this, or more importantly, know of a fix?

Please no "omg my browser is so much better, you should convert" tangents. This isn't a browser debate. I just want help with my IE6 bug.

Thank you.
