I was banned from RG once and imho if you ever stood the slightest chance in hell of being unbanned, you threw it away when you posted threatening the members of this forum. Accept responsibility for what you did, say sorry and swear on your mothers life you will never do it again, and you would be fucking blessed by god to be unbanned. Otherwise, just go away and stop making things worse for yourself. You hack, you get banned. Simple story. Crimson can be more than fair when she wants to be.
