Is this the best half of you can come up with? "He's been an asshole on these forums." WOW, who gives a fuck? I don't see how being a prick is anything worthy of a ban. He offended you, well get over it. If you're that easily offended, the Internet is not for you.

If you actually have a legit reason as to why Aircraftkiller should be banned, I'm obviously not talking to you, so don't bother stating that you have an actual reason besides his asshole actions on these forums.
