if the most private things in your life are cw versus you then you're fucking pathetic... because that's all i threatened to expose, as well as anything else you did that wronged this community shall i bring out the e-mails we made so you'll stop lying to cover your ass?

i never once threatened to give out any of your personal information... because i don't have it and i wouldn't give a shit about it to begin with. so why bother? the only thing i was interested in was justice and it's not served by sinking down to the shit level you're at
