kirby, all i can say is that you take the internet way too seriously. hence why i offered for you to meet me in person. if you'd rather stick to mindless hate of text on a screen and ignore the person behind it, sure. you're more than welcome to just don't say i didn't offer when you keep writing that crap, k?

and i suppose crimson's only changing the rules because of what happened. funny how yet again i can change her somehow, even if it isn't in a positive way
