I watched it when it was on BBC2. It was pretty entertaining. I was staying at my aunt and uncle's at the time, and had convinced them to put it on the TV by telling them it was "like Doctor Who". After the bit with the orgasm aliens, my aunt decided outloud that it was "nothing like Doctor Who". Oh well.

How many episodes do you think it will take until Russell T. Davies gives us rampant man-on-man bumming?
