Is it possible for a script to generate money for a certain team while a certain object is created?

What I am trying to do, is make a small outpost, that is capturable by a team. Just by repairing something in the middle of the outpost, all the defences will use a spawn on create script and stuff, I got that part done with. I want to know along with the defences going to the team who repaired it, would it be possible for that team to get money aswell? Like a silo?
