tarsonis9wilost0rm has hacked The Gaming Realm, a forum j4295602 and I run for fans of computer games. He has threatened to shut it down, and has made it impossible for me and j4295602 to access it, even though his IP has been banned. He has also, on AOL Instant Messenger, threatened us with death. Though we believe these threats to be groundless, we do believe he means it and just doesn't have the resources or the drive to attempt to do it.

Ponder this for a moment before you shrug off death threats :

Is a crazy person going to call you before they drive across the United States to kill you? I think not. Let's say he or whoever live 1,000 away, what if their car gets 30+ miles to the gallon? Just contact the FBI, what do you have to lose?

You : "Hey, did you hear that noise?"

Your friend : "What noise?"

You see were this is going, or at least I hope.
