As I said in my post I knew that we were involved in that. Which is why I mentioned it. But I made sure to clearly explain that I would not go as far as to say we directly sponsored terrorists. At that point, it was more of a guirilla warfare and an army movement (regardless of their motivations at the time) ... not giving "I wanna kill Americans" kind of terrorists money and weapons. The objective and motivation for then and now are much different.
