danpaul88 wrote on Mon, 20 November 2006 16:57 Because you didn't use rengaards uninstall program there will still be registry values which say rengaard is installed. You will have to manually remove them from the registry before you can reinstall rengaard. This is why programs come with uninstallers!

OH YA! omfg im retarded, Only problem is i cant find the file to do that. i might have deleted it. i looked everywhere in my renegade files command and conquer files ect. any idea what its called so i can search For it? thanks.
