Wow, so thought out... but so misguided.

Kids are looked down upon, yes. Maybe too much, but it's not as harshly as you make it out to be. I was there once. I look back and realize how stupid I was, but I thought I was smarter than everyone who disagreed with me. I am not calling you stupid because you're young. I was like you once. I thought I was smarter than I was. I wasn't stupid, but I had a lot of growing up to do, and to be honest, I still have a bit of immaturity left. I'm not done growing up, myself.

As for wearing hoodies... whoever judges someone for wearing a hoodie is a damn idiot. I wear hoodies. My girlfriend wears hoodies. My brother, cousin, and even my mom wears hoodies.

I try not to judge people, but when I say that you're a 15 year old, immature kid, it's not saying it to judge... it's the truth. There's not much you can do to escape the immaturity of your age. It's a physical thing, too. Our brains don't fully mature until about the age of 25.

As for being depressed about the responses you've gotten from people on here... duh? It's the Renegade Forums, and it's filled with idiots. Of course, they're not going to help. You'll see threads left and right like yours being derailed. If you want help, you certainly shouldn't try and get it from here. These forums have lost all of it's compassion years ago.

i think there is nothing wrong with being called a 15 year old imature kid. cuz, i am. but i don't like walking down a street getting beeped at by jerks in cars because im walking closer to the road. and as for hoodies our town center has banned them, but 18+ can wear them. and after reading many phycological articals, almost any action from a child right up untill the age of about 18 if the fault of the parent. these days people really dont know how to be a parent, i have a freind who's mother is ridiculus. like me he is 15 and we are members of a steam engine club about 5 miles away, she came and humiliated him infront of about 15 people. she had to call the police to get him, but they didn't bother. instead of ordering in a situation like that all it would of taken would to find out the problem and comprimise. im not telling anyone how to parent, because it is their own choice.

i don't like being looked down upon, but in someone cases, like in school. i think the either the old fashioned way of punishment or we can choose weather to go or not. there are some people in our school who will go out of their way to make someones life a misery, all because they dont want to be there.

im lucky, my mum had a degree in phycology. she can punish me in ways not even death can be better. without laying a single finger on me. i have even learnt some techniques myself, it works wonders on bulllys.

Sorry Dave though fuck you help-linux (also thrash).

FUCK you you peice of shit; where the hell did i come into this? but what the hell i dont even care, go fuckin eat some ape shit.

^^ as for this post ^^

im not going to make any excuse up like i was very angry or anything like that. it was because of my dad, and party because of the fact i needed to take some stress somewhere. the guy that posted this about me touched a very big nerve. it one of the only things that will make me very agressive and forget about the conciquences.
