And when my PSU failed on my old computer, it gave me a warning that in 5 minutes your computer will shutdown and crash.[/quote]

i really couldn't help but laugh at that. mabe im completely wrong, but i still find it funny.

windows will shutdown is one of its deamons has been stopped you have a virus attached to one of em and adware need to shutit down to remove it.

also, i dont see how windows could detect a faulty PSU. it has nothing to do with it.

oh, and not many people know how to make any programs to "unlock" their computer.
