I know what ya mean. I love smaller games ^_^ kekeke

And you re-enforced my point...if a team really is "PRO" they should know to defend thier pedistal. If you can't, then what does that say about you? I don't mind if someone else nukes the pedistal and gets a cheap win when versing me in like a 1v1, if I've killed 3/4 of thier buildings I still get the MVP rec at the start of the next round. Real pros shouldnt givea flying monkey about it only nubs whine when they lose and blame everyone but themselves. Some people are just arogant though and don't like it when someone else gets the win when they've been point whoring all game. Often on n00bless newmaps, myself and USBsatan verse eachother 1v1 to get the server started, and quite often (particularly on non-defended maps) its a race to get the ped. You should have seen what we did once on minesTS, every mine permitted under the limit was on or around the ped....lol
