I can't post a screen shot but I know what it is.

I made a map, and It is in a testing phase with a few people. One of them said that when they spawn they die (all spawns are in the conyard)

He said he spawns, then falls to his death, but he is able to see the rest of the level.

I have seen this on a few other maps, but I don't remember which ones.

You basicly walk into the construction yard, and there is no floor, you can see under the map and into the downstairs. And if you walked onto it, you fall through and die.
