Here's a picture of Crimsons new video card after I installed it for her. She is fortunate that her motherboard has a PCI-E slot as well as AGP (her old card was an AGP Ti4800SE). I also had to go out and buy her a new power supply, because the video card requires a dedicated 6pin power connection that her existing one didn't have. Not a bad deal at all for a $300 512MB PCI-Express card - thanks EA!
