today I was talking to an old buddy of mine who told me quite a bizzare story:

-This buddy (who im not gonna name) told me that BHS was told about certain memory leaks in Rengaurd about 3 years ago.

-Appearently that 0x90 guy, found this exploit and that exactly how his little app (im not gonna put the name) works.

-This is the most bizzare, he/she also told me that BHS ignorned the first couple of times people brought this up, sort of shrugging it off, not worrying too much about it. So they decided to do nothing about it.

True Or Not True?

false. im not exploiting any "memory leaks".
but btw.. please tell me how to "exploit memory leaks". im very interested ...

You know because of people like who think its "c0ol" to cheat on online video games, then like come to the point of taughing us, Crimson and other people have been really quite about various projects like rg1.04 aka rg2, for example because of "spies" and im sure thats the right thing to do, but because of YOU we are left hanging.

P.S: For more info on RG mem leaks, PM me. (ROFL, you wish. Still PM me your address tho, so I can come to kill you, kthnx)
