btw, I was on the BoS list...Twice. Ah well, shit happens. Just wipe and flush well thats really what i was trying to point out, i dont really get what i was banned for, and im never going to try and find out. like some one already stated except a select few from their clan, there is really nobody i want to be in contact with. i havent played on their servers in over a year aswell. actually i have really only played on noobstories and noobless for the last 2 years and a lil bit on renzor.

edit: im confused how come when i post from home, its says im in canada. but when i post from work it says im from US? i dont work in us and live in canada lol.
