That player, T3MP0ZIA or whatever, is a douchebag. It's no wonder that he cheated and it's no wonder that he'd have stupid skins like that. I used the default reticle for a good 3 years and I was a really good player at the time, only since like 2 years ago did i just pick up another reticle. I think it's just more of the fact that once you get used to a reticle, you want to use it - not that it gives an advantage. I don't even think i really even notice my reticle anymore just the little dot which is probably all you really need. (To see if you'll hit the wall or hill with a tank or whatever)

Anyways yeah anyone who uses skins like all one color are just lame. I don't know how well the aimbot works for all the colors it's just why would you think you're cool if someone uses an all color skin and thinks you *might* be cheating? i'd rather earn the accusation by having the ability to just snipe as well enough. Not that i care about sniping any more.
