Ah the democrats/liberals are at it again. They have extended a $400 per child tax credit to poor families. My take on this... you pay taxes - you get a credit. You don't pay taxes - you don't get a credit. Is it just me or is it a bad idea to give money to people for having kids who should not be having kids because they are poor? Won't that free money inspire them to have more kids putting a bigger burden on our systems?

Please stop the madness!
