And jerad: I'm very happy to see that you managed to answer this guy's question.... oh wait, u didn't...

I am glad to see that you are still not helping, use the "search button", will thanks for your input you really helped. Maybe he asked because he couldn't find it using the search button. And if you did find it why didn't you answer his question, or perhaps you know even less than he does. Actually I have never seen you answer anyones question, does this mean that all of your 2664 + messages are useless crap. If so I guess I'm done.

Goztow you moron he never even asked what a subforum was, he said dthdealer wrote on Mon, 15 January 2007 00:18 subforum?

He probably couldn't find it.

So to answer Goztow's question:

We are in a subforum right now its a sub category of the mod forum (this answer will not be found by using the search button, will I guess it will now).
