ROFL, backwards logic? You life is going no where after I posted all the real info about you, you failed to answer or even argue with what ur intentions are. You are 30+, unmarried, poor (considering ur in debt and live in a 25k house), do I need to continue? Just to remind everyone, another cheating clan was in TSU, {WG} and we all know what happened to them. So the verdict stands, used some cheats lately? Visit t Sugaming.com for full support

(1) Just because one person cheated against you (which is pretty funny, tbh), never did it anywhere else ... ever ... apologized ... and the adults felt it was sincere so we cut him a break ... does not mean we support cheating, you moron. Where did you get that from?

(2) I'm not 30+ I am 25 years old.

(3) I'm unmarried because I divorced my bitch ex wife. And anyone who knows me while I was married (ie. Crimson) will tell you that I'm a much happier and more reasonable person now. Not to mention I have been in a relationship with my fiancée (engaged) for almost 3 years now and she's more successful and attractive at the age of 20 than many other potential 'wives' out there, so I'd say I'm doing pretty damn good.

(4) I'm not poor. I'm working from home running this community and a few other side projects ... and since my fiancée makes enough money to support me while I'm pursuing my dream job ... I'd say we're wealthy enough to avoid criticism. I've insisted on going back to the workforce where I'm OVER qualified for many positions, but my fiancée refuses.

(5) I live in a $25,000 house? How the fuck would you know? We pay roughly $900/mo in rent for this house ($10.8k yearly rent), but that is rent. If you knew anything about property value, mortgages, rent, etc. then you'd realize that in the Baltimore area I'm living quite nice actually. Not to mention, you live with your fucking mother so who are you to talk?

Again, I remind you:
