I posted this on the the RENEVO boards, but Dante never even remarked on it. You have to put a description of the product, what it's for, why it was made, what the future of the product is, what the next step is, and most importantly where to get it.

For the most part it is shrouded in secrecy, and only those who come here often know what the hell it is, and take it seriously. Go to every board: (n00bstories, the pitts, here, renevo, cncammo, etc) and advertise this. Now is the time, as WOL is dead for a while, and people hate gamespy.
