Well, you're both immature. All I read was bitching on both sides. Though, it was interesting to see Tyler admit to lying, and then tell you to believe him when he says something else.

Greg, you're trying too hard to come out on top. Be the bigger person and leave him alone. We know you're trying to prove yourself after all of the shit you've done, but you really do need to just stop going on the offensive.

If you really want to 'help' him, then offer your help. You can't say you're being sincere and then resort to insults. If he doesn't want your help, then just leave him alone. If he's that bad at running communities, it'll fail.
