How can you compare Generals to Renegade? You ever see that Simpsons where Lenny and Carl are comparing different things, like pandas and Martha Stewart, or whatever? You can't do it. It doesn't make sense.

Now you can compare Gen. to RA2 and the like, and Generals is, by far superior. Not only do you have the Starcraft style construction lay out, but also a great variety in units and style of play among the three different armies. And the experience system adds a whole other dimension to the game. RA2 is good, but Generals is great.
