So that's what I always do - turn it off, then turn it back on. It's stupid but I don't know how to fix it.

Hey! I get that too and always re-set the router

ZA will not allow me to run IRC. I have to turn off ZA, run IRC then reconnect ZA.

However it was the only programme that caught "WIN32/Luder.V"

Long live ZA even if it causes a few problems. I can live with that.
