i am having real problems getting online with renegade, heres what is happening. first of all, i click on westwood online, then multiplayer internet, then finally advanced game settings. however, this is where my problem is:

i go to create a new account, select a username+password then click new account. however it says "page failed to load or is invalid". someone said do not click the create account option because that's what will happen, however there isn't anything else to select? now i asked someone on here and they said select connect to XWIS from the multiplayer internet menu. there isn't an option to select that though from the game menu, where am i going wrong?
