MadtoneNah, i think i confused ya, sorry its like this:

When im on the w2k machine the w3k can see/ping me but the w2k machine can't see/ping the w3k

When i switch to CE i can see/ping the w3k machine but the w3k machine can't see/ping the CE machine

Ok, im gonna try and actually think logically now and work out why this is, it might just be windows 2003 server has some compatibility issues.

It may be... small question though, are all these machines on the same network segment?
