The only thing with it being better in flash is that people don't have to download and run it manually. IE they just visit a webpage to see the game. psu, i suggest you look up the meaning of "Ignorant" . Also, if you want to make a client yourself, more power to you; go ahead and do it. im sure people that use it will make their own mind up as to which will be better.

Just to clear something up for you psu, you still have to download a flash app to see it. otherwise, how would your computer know what to run? don't question someones knowlage if you hardly know them. Just you have a skill in a certain area doesn't mean you are suddenly bigger than them.
