
Subject: Re: Hosting..

Posted by Goztow on Sat, 17 Mar 2007 10:18:11 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

As said: most of us rent directly at a data center. www.theplanet.com is a popular one in the US (US-based ofcourse). I see you're in Amsterdam, there's some good ones out there as well. <http://www.leaseweb.com/> is one of them.

Do realise that for a dedicatd server in a data center, you'll pay about 100 € per month. What hosting companies like aohost do is rent a dedicated server but put multiple renegade servers on it, so you need to split performance with possible lag as result.

As said: depends what you're looking for.

Edit: other advantage of aohost and maybe neronhosting (donno them) is that they setup the server for you, so u don't need to worry about that.

About only 2: this game is over 5 years old...
