It's not because my kid knows what a pedophile is, that it is safe against pedophiles. That's like saying because you teach your kid not to talk to strangers, means he's safe against kidnapers.

In Belgium we had a pedophile caught in 1996, he had kidnapped, abused and killed several children from 10-14 year. I'm convinced they all knew what a pedophile was, but that didn't prevent anything...

It's naive to think that information can keep these people from taking their pervert actions.
