well all this has been told to us by the papers, so you never know how credible they are. so far the facts are 15 people most of which are from UK are being interrogated in Iran. and ofcourse the british dont have enough firepower in the gulf to "persuade" iran to give them up. and US has recently admitted to not having proper defense from a russian land to sea missile. that may have been purchased by iran. so i would say all are weary to how this is going to end.
