Yeah that post at the top of the forum DID have some useful tutorials. About one third of the links are dead because the site with them on moved. They can now be found at http://generalhavoc.port5.com under the tutorials sections. You may want to download Ren Help from Dante's Mod Exchange (http://www.renevo.com) to start you off. Greg's Mapping tutorial located in your C:\program Files\RenegadePublicTools\HowTo\ directory somewhere is good for starting your very first map as youu get an idea how it works, you can develop it from there. If you need any help with LevelEdit you can ask here as I know a lot about using it rather than the RenX side of things. Good Luck!
