Teamwork

The enemy is in his base just sitting there camping,
My strategy is in need of a serious revamping.

If there arose any opening for it I would race.
To get in their base and commence to destroying,
And let out the technician so his beacon could be deploying.
But out on the field I am stuck just trying,
To get near their base and to keep from dying.
Plans are exchanged on our team with a final agreement,
We would attack in force with overwhelming vehement.
A path for the APC would surely be cleared,
When seven tanks on the charge suddenly appeared.
Teamwork is what this game is surely all about,
Of this I am certain that you will have no doubt.
