So I have installed the new update. I run on Windows XP and on the server I play on, I am still dropping connection from renguard every 3-4 minutes. When I talk to the mods, it appears I am one of the only regular players that is still losing Connection from renguard, therefore am being kicked from the game. I read a few different things here about different problems. Can anyone tell me if this is just a stability issue still, or if there's something I can do to try and fix this problem? Thanks for your help!
