i need your help.

whenever i try to install renegade after i input my CD key and try to choose an install directory i get this syntax error message and i cannot proceed any further in the installation process.

i could copy and paste the install folder from the CD but then i cant update as the updater cant find the install directory cus i just copied and pasted the game.

i should have just stayed with XP but i have to reformat every month to restart the evaluation period so i got Vista ultimate.

please i need help from any other Vista users who may have had the same problem.
