PIC Sydney

The enemy tanks have all broken through,
Our base is in trouble but I know what to do.
Off to the Purchase Terminal to upgrade my character,
A Sydney with a Personal Ion Cannon should be the decisive factor.
Blasting away at the enemy tanks pounding our base,
They know only death from a cool blue trace.
Those that have survived retreat in a haste,
To the safety of their base with no time to waste.
I quickly refill and replenish my health,
On my way out of the base I notice a stealth.

I get behind him and light him up with a blast.
Not sure what to do he makes his first mistake,
He attacks thinking this will be a piece of cake.
He gets up close and continues to pursue,
Blast after ion blast strikes his tank true.
After his tank explodes his stealth soldier is exposed,
