

---

Subject: Re: A question for Vista (legit) owners.
Posted by genetix on Wed, 23 May 2007 01:15:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Vista is horrible and worth uninstalling! We have it on a new office computer and it has to be the worst OS I have ever used. I would prefer windows 95 over it. Why? Nothing works like it should in Vista. Its not for someone who's computer inclined. All the functional "This programs loading", "This program's frozen" stuff is thrown out the window for spinning colours and flashy backgrounds.

Not to mention the piece of crap is more of a horde then XP when it comes to resources. WAY MORE! I have an old AMD 3200 with 1 gig of ram and it runs EVERYTHING WAY faster then the new office computer which is AMD 4200(64 bit) and 2 gigs of ram. Its just plain old dumb.

VISTA is a piece of crap and isn't needed. XP Pro is WAY more functional, reliable, resourceful and effective.

I might aswell add on aswell that I couldn't even get vista to connect to my XP network. I won't go into that because this post is long enough.

---