Trooprm02, its people like you that scare the shit out of new Renegade players.

I'd say fuck this game if I was new and came to these forums only to seeing you piss off so many people in so many forums. Like I just wrote in a different post you need to chill the fuck out. You're not Mr. Pro, neither is your clan, whatever ... who cares. You're not terrible, but in EVERY post you make you go on and on about how incredibly pro you are and how everything you touch becomes pure golden skillz.

If you want to prove yourself a better person, do three things:
(1) Make all challenges, with someone there to witness (that isn't in your clan)
(2) Take all challengesm even if you think you'll lose and don't leave until you have proof they cheated.
(3) Stop attacking people so personally.

Block out everyone else in the world right now, re-read the three things I just wrote ... again ... and then tell ME "I read it fl00d3d and I'll try". If you can at least do that then people will know you're not a brick wall.
