I know this will get ugly, and im ready to take hits as I am quite known to have some experience, but yeah.

I am "Matix" and/or "SeargentSarg" as some people may call me.

Recently, I changed my name, and everything, from Matix to ST3ALTH and stealth-server.net

Some people wouldn't do this, but I did, and I have good reasons for it.

- 1) I was being attacked non-stop.
- 2) I have had a bad reputation for being a known cheater / hacker, as well as a "ripper"
- 3) Copied sites

I changed my name, for those reasons, to take on the name of a new persona, in order to re-gain community respect, but not for in the name of Matix. I did this, because, I love this game, I have respect for everyone, and I did try my very damn fucking best to get away from my old habbits. Like for example, cheating, was a known habbit, I simply changed that by getting addicted to xbox live, really, there are no "cheats" or "hacks" or "glitches" in those games, cause if they find it, they patch it 1 week after its found out, and I learned, how it is, to be a true team player, how it is, to play fair.

And now, again, for my apologies.

I am truly low for doing this, as I have disrespected my bestest of friends in this community, names would include, Caveman (for breaking his trust and lieng to him), danpaul (for lieng to him straight up, and saying someone that im not), and all the old rencorner regulars, members, etc. for completely abandoning them, leaving them in the dark, with a dead community. Kamuix, for lieng to him, he doesn't deserve this, and I know f100d3d is going to celebrate this, but yeah, im Matix, and yes, I did this as well, and f100d3d will probably continue with this for ages, but yeah..

I am Matix.

Please don't flame me, I have had enough crap going on... (Crimson, or any mod, plz lock this thread quickly)

Sorry to all of rencommunity.
