Well, Patch is such a strong character. The most impressive thing is his weapon, the Tiberium Fletchette.

When it shoots out the tib shards, you can see the green tracer which dramatically improves accuracy during engagements with enemy infantry. Plus, the tiberium shard causes additional damage because it lodges in the enemy infantry.

But the greatest thing about Patch: Killing SBH's!

Never once did an SBH escape me when I was Patch...all you need is to find the SBH and he is a dead man. This makes Patch very deadly in tunnels. The Tiberium shard causes so much damage and creates a trackable green cloud over the SBH that you can easily follow!

A Patch in good hands is a very dangerous GDI infantry. That's why I like him.
