Posted by jonwil on Tue, 05 Jun 2007 12:01:33 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My advice is to just stick with the router.
But if you DO want a firewall on your PC, whatever you do, DO NOT, I repeat, DO NOT get Norton Internet Security. In fact, DO NOT use anything from Norton/Symantec at all. Their products (their current ones anyway) are CRAP.
Mcafee aren't much better.

Can't say much about any of the other firewalls, never used them myself, I just have a router and that works great for keeping any rogue intrusions (hackers, trojans etc) out of my computer. And I have a good anti virus program (AVG anti virus) for finding any nasties that get in through other means.