It depends on the time of Year, typically:

Summer:
Guild Wars: 0-4 hours per day(depending on the day)
Coding/Graphic Design: 0-2 hours per day(depending on the day)
Work: 8 hours per day
Fiancee gets the rest

School Year:
Guild Wars: 0-2 hours per day(depending on the day)
School and School Work: 10-16 hours per day(coding included)
Fiancee gets the rest.

-Guild Wars is addictive, and my fiancee plays with me and makes it worse
-School takes an enormous amount of time, and so does work but to a lesser scale.
-Coding is fun every now and then, so I'll turn on the visual studio or Dreamweaver every now and then. I'll leave eclipse off though, Java is a pain