One time on walls flying a stealth balckhand placed a beacon behind the GDI barracks and then they threw a timed C4 next to the beacon, they died and then four enggy's started to disarm it but the C4 blew and they were all killed. But I was an enggy and I kept my distance so when they died, then I came up and disarmed it and then the beacon was disabled and I stopped it with 2 sec to spare. To bad the game ended 1 sec after that because of the time limit.

If you used this tactic and it worked, it wasn't because of you, it's because you're up against a really, REALLY bad opposition.

It would take one APC or tank to stop this.
